RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

- The risk level reflects the maximum between, on the one hand, the fund's historical volatility and, on the other, the volatility equivalent to that of the risk limit adopted by the fund. The volatility indicates the extent to which the value of the fund may fluctuate upwards or downwards.
- The historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The indicated category may vary over time.
- The lowest category does not mean "risk-free".
- There is no guarantee or mechanism to protect the capital.

The investor needs to be aware of the following significant risks which are not necessarily adequately taken into account by the indicator:

- Arbitrage risk: The fund may use the technique consisting in taking advantage of price differences (recorded or anticipated) between two securities/sectors/markets/currencies. If such arbitrage transactions perform unfavourably (a rise in selling transactions and/or fall in buying transactions), the net asset value of the fund may fall.

- Credit risk: the fund is exposed to the risk of default of an issuer in terms of honouring the payment of coupons and/or the repayment of the amount borrowed. This risk is higher as the fund may invest in high-yield debt issues whose issuers are considered risky.

- Counterparty risk: The fund may use OTC derivative products and these may represent a counterparty risk, i.e. the inability of the counterparty to honour its commitments to the fund. This counterparty risk could be fully or partially hedged by the receipt of guarantees.

- Risk related to financial derivative instruments: their use implies risk associated with the underlying assets and can accentuate downward movements via the resulting leverage effect. Hedging strategies using derivatives may not be perfect. Some derivatives may be difficult to value under exceptional market circumstances.

- Emerging countries risk: emerging countries may experience political, legal or fiscal uncertainties or other events that could impact negatively on the assets of the fund. The assets traded in these countries may be subject to market movements that are potentially more rapid than in the major international markets and listing differentials that may be considerably bigger under certain market conditions. These assets may prove to be less liquid and may not be able to be sold quickly and at reasonable prices. Exchange rate fluctuations involving the currencies of emerging countries may be sudden and substantial.
